

CGI-IUGS COMPETITION

Applying International Geoscience Standards

This year, we want to hear from you!

PRIZE: Transport, registration and accommodation cost up to USD3000.00 to the 36th International Geological Congress (IGC2020) in New Delhi, India, 2-8 March 2020, for young geoscientist (younger than 40).

Do you have creative ideas?

- On the application of CGI standards for geoscience data delivery.
- That encourage the use of CGI standards in geoscientific research.

The winners will be expected to present (poster or oral) their application of CGI standards at IGC2020.

How to Enter

- Submit a one page description of the project or research that you are working on which showcases the use of CGI standards.
- Register for CGI membership at the CGI website.

Closing date: 1 September 2019

Go to www.cgi-iugs.org for more information on CGI.

For any questions regarding submissions, please email CGIsecretariat@mail.cgs.gov.cn.

To get involved, contact CGIsecretariat@mail.cgs.gov.cn for more information about CGI opportunities.

